JUDGE KEEPS HILL JURORS IN SESSION Refuses to Let Them Report Disagreement Today

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—The jury in the Harry Hill matricide trial reported to Judge Joe A. Davis at 10 A. M. that its members were unable to agree upon a verdict but Judge Davis sent it back for further deliberation. The case went to the jury at 1:58 P. M. last Tuesday.

There was a story going about the court house today that a wife of one of the jurors called from the street and asked him if he would be home soon and also if he knew that Lee O'Neil Browne was dead. Every effort had been taken to keep the news of the defense attorney's death from the jury. The story was denied by the judge in charge of the jury.

The twelve men apparently greatly refreshed by their night's sleep resumed their deliberation about 9 o'clock this morning.

Defense Complained
Defense attorneys R. C. Osborn and W. C. Jones complained to Judge Davis about sending the jury back. The judge told the two men to get all the lawyers connected with the case together for a conference and he would discuss the matter with them.

The judge told newspapermen that he did not wish to let the jury go until he felt sure they had exhausted all chances of reaching a verdict after the expense the county had been put to by the trial.

Harry had a troubled morning at the county jail. He paced his cell nervously awaiting word from court. The sheriff ordered no one to go near the youthful defendant's cell except deputy sheriffs. Trustees in the jail have had considerable liberty in moving about the building, but they are to be kept away from Hill hereafter.

The precaution was taken by the sheriff following receipt of a threatening letter. The sheriff afraid of a physical attack upon the young man, yesterday assigned another deputy sheriff to go back and forth between the jail and court house with him.

The jury was taken to lunch at 12 o'clock still deadlocked.

The men had grim expressions on their faces as they marched down the stairs. They said nothing to one another. The corridor was cleared before the jury was taken out.

RAILWAY AGENT AT PRINCETON WAS HELD UP

Officers of District are Seeking Lone Robber of Agent

Police throughout the district Wednesday were seeking a lone bandit who late Tuesday night held up W. C. Weaver, attendant at the Princeton station of the Burlington railroad, and after ordering him into a washroom at the point of a gun, looted the till and obtained $45 in cash.

Weaver was at his work in the ticket office of the station at about 11 o'clock, when he was startled at the command to "stick 'em up." Looking in the direction whence the voice came, Weaver saw a large calibre revolver pointed at him through the grating of the ticket office window and in the darkness of the waiting room could discern the shadow of a man.

The holdup man ordered Weaver into a washroom which adjoins the ticket office, and after getting the attendant into the room, and at the bandit's command, closed the door behind him, the bandit entered the ticket office, removed all of the money from the till and ran from the station.

As soon as Weaver heard the door of the station close, he ran to a telephone and notified the sheriff's office and a squad of deputies was immediately dispatched to the scene. Several hours of intensive search failed to reveal any trace of the fugitives.

Wednesday morning an investigation of the ground about the station disclosed two sets of footprints leading from the station, indicating perhaps that the bandit had a companion who remained in the waiting room as a lookout while his confederate held up Weaver.

New Lines are Drawn Last Day of Gen. Assembly

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—New party lines were formed in the lower house of the Illinois legislature today as the Lowden-Deneen militant faction tried to stave off what appeared to be almost certain passage of the controversial Senate bill 40.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—The peculiar status of Senate bill 40 was to be scrutinized by the lower branch of the Illinois Legislature today as the Assembly convened in what has been set as the final day of the special session.

This bill is peculiar in that it has been used as a catch-all for all amendments various groups wished to insert in the primary act of 1927. The latest amendment providing that ward committeemen be substituted for precinct committeemen in Chicago, was adopted yesterday.

The bill originally provided for a "primary certifying board" consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State and State Auditor, to place their signatures on certificates of nomination, a duty formerly performed by the Secretary of State alone. The bill, furthermore, re-enacts the portion of the primary law knocked out by the Supreme Court relating to registration in Chicago.

Faces Test Today
The ward committeemen amendment yesterday was adopted by a 89-41 vote. The bill itself must have 102 votes for passage. The question for today's session is whether the administration forces can garner the additional thirteen votes in the face of much opposition both against the ward committeemen amendment and the certifying board provision, which many interpret as curtailing the powers of the Secretary of State.

It was generally believed today that farmer members from downstate, after having been impetioned by Lowden boosters last night, will stand fast in their opposition to the ward committeemen amendment and bring about the bill's defeat. The amendment was interpreted yesterday as restoring boss rule to Chicago, which in turn would turn all political power in Chicago over to Mayor Thompson, avowed enemy of Lowden.

Another possibility, however, is that members, impatient to end the special session, will allow the bill to go through.

Governor Small's power among downstate members, it was further said, cannot be lightly discounted, and since he desires its enactment, it will go through without serious difficulty, many predict.

UNUSUAL DEMAND HERE FOR AIR MAIL SUPPLIED TO GET LETTER CARRIED BY COL. CHAS. LINDBERGH

Postmaster John E. Moyer today reported that the sale of air mail supplies for letters to be carried by Col. Charles Lindbergh on his "farewell" mail flights from St. Louis to Chicago and return next Monday and Tuesday, has started off with a rush, and there is danger the local supplies will be exhausted before Sunday, the last day mail to be carried by the Lone Eagle can be received at the local post office for shipment to Springfield, where it will be picked up by the famous aviator.

To correct a misunderstanding on the part of patrons of the local office, Mr. Moyer said:

BODY OF NEGRO FOUND ON RAILROAD AT NELSON Unidentified Man Met Death Under Wheels of Freight Train

The body of an unknown Negro, aged about 40 years, was found lying alongside of the main line tracks of the Chicago & North Western railroad, one mile east of the Nelson station this morning. The fireman on an extra west-bound freight train saw the lifeless body lying just outside of track number 2 and reported it at Nelson.

Coroner Frank M. Banker was notified and the body was ordered removed to the Staples-Moyer mortuary where an inquest will be conducted this afternoon. The body was heavily clothed, indicating that the unidentified Negro had been beating his way on trains, and he is presumed to have met his death when he fell from an east-bound freight train some time during the night. The body was cold when found and it is believed that the man had been dead for several hours.

Pawn Ticket Found.
The only likely means of identification found in the clothing was a pawn ticket, dated December 27, 1927, issued by the Gallant Loan & Mercantile company, 1416-1418 Market street, corner Johnson, St. Louis, Mo. Writing on the ticket indicated that the bearer had secured $7.50 for articles pawned on that date. This ticket was carefully wrapped in a piece of plain white paper and was in a small leather purse. This is the only means by which it was expected that identification of the body might be made possible. The purse also contained 60 cents which was all of the money found in the clothing.

Railroad employees at Nelson stated that the stranger was seen at the depot about 10:30 yesterday morning. He spent about an hour in the waiting room at the depot and left about 12 o'clock at noon. Those who saw him stated that the man appeared to be sick and slept most of the time he was in the station.

Had Been Dragged.
From the appearance of the body he had doubtless fallen from an east-bound train and had been dragged some distance. The right arm below the elbow was badly mangled and his head was badly battered, presumably from being dragged along the crushed stone ballast. A pocket knife and his cap were found a few feet from where the body lay. It was reported that two holes in the head resembled bullet wounds and these were being investigated by Dr. A. F. Moore, company physician, at noon. The holes, however, appeared to have been made by sharp rocks when the body struck the crushed stone ballast. Coroner Banker will conduct an inquest over the remains late this afternoon.

JUDGE MAY DIRECT VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY IN TRIAL OF GOV. JACKSON, INDIANA, THIS P. M.

Indicated State Failed to Prove Case Against Him

BULLETIN
Indianapolis, Feb. 16—(AP)—Declaring that he believed the state had failed to prove its case against Gov. Ed. Jackson but withholding decision until 2 o'clock this afternoon, Judge Charles M. McCabe in criminal court today took under advisement defense motion for a directed verdict of not guilty. Jackson is charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in attempt to bribe.

"If at the time I feel as I do now, I shall sustain the motion, but do it with regret," Judge McCabe said. "If I had my choice I would much prefer that the defense put on all its evidence."

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16—(AP)—The state rested its case against Governor Ed Jackson at 9:11 o'clock this morning.

Shortly after the state had closed defense attorneys presented a motion asking Judge Charles M. McCabe to direct a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the prosecution had failed to produce sufficient evidence to prove the governor guilty. He is charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in an attempt to bribe.

The men under indictment, Governor Jackson, George V. Coffin, Marion County Republican Chairman, and Robert I. March, a local attorney, would have had to have been indicted within two years after commission of the alleged crime in accordance with the limitations statute.

The Jackson indictment, however, charged that the case could be tried because a conspiracy had existed to keep the alleged crime concealed.

Clyde H. Jones of defense counsel argued that there was no evidence of the crime or the concealment shown. He declared further that there was no evidence of any threat, no evidence of the power of Jackson, or Coffin or the Ku Klux Klan in the record, as the prosecution alleged it would show.

Showed No Fear
"No word of threat was taken to McGraw," Jones said. "They allege McGraw was kept in fear for three and one half years. He was a competent witness but they did not ask him if he was in fear when he was on the stand. They didn't dare."

The state was permitted to reopen its case to put Prosecutor Remy on the stand to testify that he did not know of the alleged bribe until it came to his attention last summer.

Last Curtain Call

ASSOCIATED PRESS (TIMES-WIDE WORLD)
EDDIE FOY

Veteran of the stage, who died suddenly in Kansas City hotel this morning. Foy's stage success dates back nearly half a century.

EDDIE FOY, WELL KNOWN COMEDIAN, CALLED SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Caused Death of Stage Star This Morning

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 16—(AP)—Eddie Foy, the actor, died at the Hotel Baltimore here today.

Mr. Foy played at the Orpheum Theater here last night, and appeared in good health, Fred Spear, manager of the theater said.

The actor's wife awakened him at 7:30 a. m. and found him ill. She summoned the physician. Mr. Foy died at 8:45 a. m.

Heart disease was assigned as the cause of death by Dr. Herbert Tutthill. The veteran comedian was making what had been billed as his farewell tour of stages on which he had acted for more than half a century.

"The Fallen Star" was the vehicle for the veteran's last appearance on the boards. In the playlet Foy took the part of a stage door man, who was once a star on Broadway. It gave him an opportunity to recall to present-day theatergoers some of his own triumphs of the past.

That the actor realized his farewell tour was not run its full course was indicated to Charles Thomas, general manager of the Lakewood Golf and Country Club, a close friend, who visited him backstage Tuesday night.

Mr. Thomas said he found Foy seated on a trunk, almost too weak to go on the stage for his act, and that the actor remarked then he did not believe he would be able to finish the season.

Dr. Tutthill said he learned from Mrs. Foy that her husband had been subjected to heart attacks for the last six months.

HERO OF IROQUOIS FIRE

Chicago, Feb. 16—(AP)—When fired in the Iroquois Theater here killed hundreds, twenty-four years ago, Eddie Foy, who died today in Kansas City, was the last person to leave the stage.

Foy was appearing in "Mr. Bluebeard" when a gauzy bit of stage drapery caught fire during the bargain matinee on Dec. 30, 1903. The flames shot over the heads of the audience and into the gallery and in a moment a wild stampede for exits was under way with the hoarse shouts of men and the screams of women and children mingling with the crackling of the flames.

Pleaded for Order
Foy, the comedian, rushed to the front of the stage with the flames roaring above his head. As burning embers fell about him he pleaded with the audience not to give way to panic.

The comedian in his tight, smock and wig, a grotesque figure in the flaming scenery and his appearance apparently arrested for a moment the mad scramble for doors. He urged the orchestra to play and eight girls on the stage at his direction went on with a dance. Those on the stage, directed by Foy, continued to try to attract the attention of those hurrying for doors until the curtain was lowered but before this could be done the flames had shot into the audience killing hundreds by suffocation, burning and trampling.

A benefit performance for the Chicago fire victims was given by Foy and his company.

Search for Prisoners Who Murdered Them is Fruitless

BULLETIN

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Feb. 16—(AP)—Fingerprints of two youths held here as suspects in connection with the disappearance of two Indiana deputies do not check with those of John Burns and Samuel Baxter, the Indiana fugitives, authorities announced today.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 16 —(AP)—A nine days search for two deputy sheriffs who disappeared February 7, while taking two youthful prisoners from LaFayette to the Pendleton, Ind., state reformatory ended today in woods near the village of Foster, Ind., where the bodies of the officers were found lying side by side covered with an automobile robe.

The bodies of the deputies, fully clothed and with limbs carefully straightened, were discovered by three farmers walking through the woods. The deputies, John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, left LaFayette February 7 in an automobile in charge of John Burns and Samuel Baxter, youths committed to the state reformatory at Pendleton. The officers and their prisoners did not arrive at Pendleton and for nine days a search has been in progress for them.

Auto Found in Decatur

The automobile in which the trip was started, a bullet hole in the windshield, was found in Decatur and an investigation led to reports that pistol and money "had been smuggled to the youths just before they started the trip with the deputies."

Several boys answering the general description of the escaped prisoners have been arrested in various sections of the country and later released when they were found not to be the ones wanted.

The bodies still were in a good state of preservation, but gave evidence of having lain several days at the spot where they were found, 100 feet from a much travelled gravel road running between West Lebanon and Foster, and, once the presence of the bodies had been discovered, it was noted that the site was visible from the road.

Method Not Learned
The bodies lay alongside a fairly large brush heap and four sprays of brush had been thrown over them.

Means of their murder had not been learned, due to the fact the Governor and Sheriff directed the discovery to permit no one to touch or see the bodies until they arrived.

The discovery terminated more than a week of intensive search of the territory between LaFayette, Ind., and Chicago by hundreds of state and city police. The two convicts, believed by police to have been responsible for the disappearance of the officers, are still at large.

Covered With Robe

Bodies of the two officers were discovered on the farm of Charles Abdill, near here. Abdill, in company with two other men stumbled across the prostrate figures of the missing officers, covered with a heavy automobile robe. They were fully dressed.

The farm is remote from any telephone and further news was unobtainable. Newspapermen rushed to the scene of the discovery from Danville.

Police believed the robe to be the same one which a hack driver told them he had seen flung across "two bundles" in the rear of a speeding automobile on the morning of February 7. The informant, Herman Kyle, who lived near LaFayette, later identified pictures of the two convicts. He said one of them was driving the machine.

OLD MASTERS

DIFFERENT POETS—
(Christian Science Monitor.)
James Oppenheim's "Lincoln Child," with its irregular lines has a rhapsodic note.
All about him, the land,
Eastern cities, Western prairies,
Wild, immeasurable, grand.
Against this background we see him:
And lo, as he grew ugly, gaunt,
And gnarled his way into a man,
What wisdom came to feed his want,
What words came near to let him scan!
And as he fathomed through and through
Our dark and sorry human scheme,
He knew what Shakespeare never knew,
What Dante never dared to dream—
That men are one.
Beneath the sun.
Witter Bynner in a dialect poem, "A Farmer Remembers Lincoln," reveals yet another side of the man—
And he'd bend over and talk to the boys—
And he'd talk so good to 'em—so close—
That's why I call him a farmer.
I don't mean that everything about him wasn't all right, you understand,
It's just—well, I was a farmer—
And he was my neighbor, anybody's neighbor.
I guess even you young folks would've liked him.
Finally in this group, John Gould Fletcher writes with a fine symbolism:
There was a darkness in this man;
An immense and hollow darkness,
Of which we may not speak, nor share with him, nor enter.
A darkness through which, strong roots stretched downwards into the earth
Towards old things;
Towards the herdsman-kings who walked the earth and spoke with God.
Towards the wanderers who sought for they knew not what, and found their goal at last.
Down to the granite of patience
These roots swept, knotted fibrous roots, prying, piercing, seeking.
And drew from the living rock and the living waters about it
The red sap to carry upwards to the sun.
There is a rhythmic undertone running through all these poems, harmonizing many beautiful notes—heroism, patience, humility, rough-hewn nobility, human kindness and sympathy, and comradeship.

Practical Club Meeting Enjoyed

The members of the Practical club and their husbands were delightfully entertained on Monday evening with a Valentine party at the home of Mrs. D. G. Palmer, Mrs. Frank Wilson serving as hostess.
St. Valentine reminders were present in the pretty decorations in the home for the evening. Games were the amusement for the evening and these were enjoyed until a late hour. Music was also a feature, Mrs. Niles Palmer giving special pleasure with several selections on the "accordion." The hostesses served a delicious two course luncheon at the conclusion of the games. The red heart of Valentine day was conspicuous in the decorations. The brick ice cream for the dessert was molded with a heart in the center. This concluded a decidedly happy evening for everyone present.

BREAKFAST—Baked apples, cereal cream, shirred eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Oysters in bacon blankets, cabbage and carrot salad, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, jelly roll, milk, tea.

Shirred Eggs
Four eggs, 2 tablespoons cream, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper.
Butter four muffin rings and put on a well buttered pie pan or baking sheet. Melt the butter and divide among the rings. Break an egg into each ring, taking care not to break the yolk. Pour over cream, dust with salt and pepper and bake in a moderate oven for ten minutes or until the white is set. Remove from muffin rings and serve on a hot platter.
Of course the eggs can be baked in a shallow baking dish without muffin rings but the rings keep the eggs in neat shapes for serving.

Ideal Club Held Pleasant Meeting

The members of the Ideal Club held a very pleasant meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Blake Grover.
In the absence of the president, Mrs. Howard Beam, Mrs. L. W. Miller presided.
Roll call was answered with patriotic sentiments. The paper of the afternoon, "Organization Is Not a Magical Carpet Proposition," by Mrs. Will Wilson was instructive.
Interesting current events were given by Mrs. Fred Wolkne. At the close of the program all were invited to the dining room, which had been artistically decorated in keeping with the King of Hearts, St. Valentine, in honor of his birthday, and where the serving of delicious refreshments during the delightful social hour brought to a close a happy afternoon.

Farewell Party for Lawrence Moellers

On Monday evening, Feb. 6th, a party of neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Moeller, to express their regrets at the anticipated departure of the family and to enjoy once more the society of these good neighbors, before they move to their new home in the city of Dixon.
Cards, music and games were enjoyed by all, after which James Bollman, in a very gracious manner, presented Mr. and Mrs. Moeller with a set of sherberts, with their best wishes. Afterwards delicious refreshments were served. The guests departed at a late hour, having spent a most enjoyable evening, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Moeller good luck and prosperity in their future home.

Entertained With Valentine Party

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Policeman William Parks of New York had saved the lives of more than 20 people by giving them his blood for transfusions. The other night he suffered a blood transfusion for the twenty-first time to save the life of his baby son. But the child died. Policeman Parks isn't the first parent to sadly realize that what he can do for other people he can't always do for his own family.

OUCH! INCOME TAX
Single people are asking for an increase in their income tax exemption of $1500, pointing to the $3500 allowed married people with $400 more for each child. But the unmarried son of a daughter fulfilling numerous family obligations, which can't be legally classified if he or she isn't "sole support" for someone, must dole out generously after the skinny $1500 is deducted. Sometimes one opines that all the unmarried pay too big a price for their firmness in ways other than the ones most usually cited.

MORE OF IT
There has been an epidemic of articles in magazines and papers of late, all written by men insisting that women work for money and not from choice; that any and every woman would prefer the sheerly domestic task to all others. The latest exponent of this creed, Dr. Louis E. Bisch, writes in a current woman's magazine.

There are millions of working women. But how many truly enjoy it? In how many kinds of woman's work is feminine desire and actual accomplishment harmoniously blended? There are thousands of stenographers, for instance. Can such work possibly be satisfying or stimulating?

NERVES
One-third of the money of most women working outside homes goes for doctor and medicine bills for "nerves sustained by the aching void of emotions," finales the doctor.
I wonder if a isn't just as true that about a third of any average family income is spent on the "nerves" of the stay-at-home wife and mother. Which means that neither statement is very true.

St. Valentine's Party Monday

A very pretty St. Valentine's party was given Monday evening by Miss Edna Janssen at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Janssen of Nelson. The guests were students of the seventh and eighth grades. The home was artistically decorated in St. Valentine motifs, and games suggestive of St. Valentine were enjoyed. Prizes were given to Miss Linnette Coppotelli, Elmer Westfeldt and Lowell Smith for successfully throwing a ball through a large heart. Refreshments in keeping with the colors, red and white were served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Civic Music Assn. Meeting in LaSalle

The second annual membership campaign dinner of the Community Civic Association which was attended by officers, directors, captains and co-workers numbering nearly 200 was held at the Hotel Kaskaskia in LaSalle, Monday evening. Miss Harriet McIntire, captain for Mendota, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McIntire, Mrs. Arthur McIntire, Mrs. Edgar Cook, Miss Louise Hartan, Robert Crawford, Jr., and Elbridge McIntire were those from Mendota who attended the dinner and meeting.

T. J. McCormick, president of the association, presided. Mr. McCormick stated that 500 members had remitted their dues and gave a brief review of the success of the past year, after which he introduced G. A. Wilson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and the high school board. Three minute talks were given by Dean Inman, Granville; Prof. G. B. Monmon, Tonica; Dr. Edward Cox, Oakley; Miss Harriet McIntire, of Mendota; Manly Riosides of Springfield; Rev. W. H. Evans, Peru; Rev. Thomas Devine, LaSalle and Rev. G. S. McClary of LaSalle.
The principal speaker of the evening was Dena E. Harshbarger, president and general manager of the Civic Concert Service Inc., Chicago are originators and organizers of the Civic Music Assn. of America, a national organization which now numbers 150 of the leading cities throughout the United States.

Following Miss Harshbarger, W. S. Wright, director and organizer of publicity of the Civic Concert Service Inc., instructed the captains and co-workers as to the most successful way of putting over the campaign.
This organization is for the purpose of bringing good music to the people at a small cost. The association will have at least three concerts during the year and probably four if the membership is large enough. These concerts are held in LaSalle as no other city in this unit has a large enough auditorium.

The drive for membership started Monday and all memberships are to be in by Saturday evening. If there is anyone who cares to join this organization, get in touch with Miss Harriet McIntire who is membership captain in Mendota. Last year Mendota had 51 members and it is hoped that many more will join this year. The membership for a year is $5.00 and $3.50 for school children.

Meeting of Grace Missionary Society

The members of the Women's Missionary Society of Grace Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. B. H. Gagstetter Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance present.

The meeting opened with a piano solo by Gladys Stroup who responded to an encore, both numbers being enjoyed by all. "Take Time To Be Holy," was the hymn which all joined in singing.

A piano duet by Mrs. O. E. Strook and Lester Messner was encored. The leaflet, "The Mission of a Missionary Thankoffering Box," was read by Mrs. Charles Garrison. The lesson study was given by Rev. Brandt, "Social Progress," and the fourth chapter of the book, "A Straight Way Toward Tomorrow," was enjoyed. Mrs. Archie Kline and Mrs. Reis sang a duet after which Miss Rilla Webster gave a reading. Both were enjoyed. Mrs. O. E. Strook read an article, "Shall We Drop Her Name?" A business session followed, after which the hostess served dainty refreshments and a social hour followed.

Mrs. B. H. Gagstetter and Mrs. Sarah Reis were the hostesses for the afternoon.

Inasmuch as members have ruled against seven-day-a-week activities for the house, it is up to the Woman's club to support the week-day shows. Mrs. A. R. Floberg, chairman of the liberal patronage during the week can Rockford theater be maintained.

NEW PARIS FASHIONS SHOW FEW CHANGES

By Hazel Reavis
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
Paris—(AP)—Variation, not change, is provided for spring styles by Paris.

There is to be no essential difference between styles of winter and the new fashions of spring. Skirts will be a bit longer, waistlines a bit higher. Clothes have slipped a bit further away from the masculine silhouette. The silhouette reveals more of the figure without actually getting away from the straight, slender outline.

Main points of the most important dressmakers' collection indicate that more tailored costumes for morning and fewer sport costumes for other purposes than sport are to be worn. The tailored suit with short coat and straight, wrap-around skirt is stressed at many houses. It frequently appears in the form of dark blue coat and light skirt.

For afternoon wear capes will undoubtedly be popular, particularly when they are worked up in silk crepe and satins for summer. Many of these wraps show the scarf collar, a straight tie-collar attached only at the back and meant to be tied in a bow at the side of the neck.

The new evening dresses stress printed chiffons, which are shown in large floral patterns as well as large plaids. The trailing drapery, chiffon pinnies and petal gowns which float are more popular than ever. One important designer combines printed chiffons and printed taffeta or identical patterns in evening frocks with bustle backs.

CLUB PROCEDURE MADE PROFESSION BY WOMAN

Chicago—(AP)—Mrs. Joseph Mayer is in demand by Chicago women's clubs when a fine point of parliamentary procedure is up for decision. She has made parliamentary law a profession.

Mrs. Mayer, who has two sons in college, has just completed a course at the University of Chicago. Fourteen years ago, she decided she could do more than keep house and take care of her children, so she decided to study parliamentary law. She is considered an authority and the unique profession keeps her relatively busy.

RASH OF POLKA DOTS SWEEPS STYLE WORLD

Paris—(AP)—Fashions have broken out with a rash of polka-dots.

Perhaps the dressmaker who is most enthusiastic about polka-dots is Mme. Nicole Groult. She shows many dotted silk blouses with suits of solid color.

Jackets and long coats at this house have scarf collars of dotted silk which tie in a bow knot at one side of the throat, or hang straight. There are also scarfs of dotted silk. Nearly every dressmaker uses white dots on a navy or black silk ground in some form in the collection of spring.

WOMEN AS PHYSICIANS—

By Olive Roberts Barton

As it seemed to be woman's prerogative and duty to look after the sick, I have often wondered why no economic attempt has been made to connect her up with the science of medicine—any further, that is, than training in a school of nurses or helping in laboratories, for recently, of course, the services of women with scientific college training have been in much demand in the latter work.

The subject has come under my observation recently with the information that the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia is the only institution on the continent devoted exclusively to the training of women for the practice of medicine and surgery. As it is so poorly endowed, and leads such a "hand-to-mouth" existence, its students must devote time needed for studies to the raising of funds to keep it going.

At medical school, women are merely tolerated—they are first there on sufferance. A woman's status in the average medical school is the same as that of a male sent to Wellesley or Bryn Mawr. The odd part of it is that women doctors are more in demand every day, especially for children and children's clinics. They are also needed for girl's schools and colleges, and for industrial plants.

It is true that male physicians are specializing on the health and diseases of children. This is called by the appalling title of "pediatrics." So far, only the larger cities have gone in for the special child doctor to any extent.

There is an enormous field for the work in the smaller cities and towns. The field of pediatrics includes the preventive and curative as well as curative medicine for children. Parents who have seen the wonders worked by these specialists in making ailing sickly children over into well strong ones will have no other doctors for their growing families, as a rule. Women are specially fitted for this work.

Judge Tries Parole Cure for Criminals

Warrensburg, Mo.—(AP)—Judge F. W. Cockrell, picturesque circuit judge here, uses the parole system to reform as well as punish offenders.

Cure for Criminals

If a law violator deserves a two months' sentence, Judge Cockrell gives him a six month, a year or a two year term in jail. Then at the end of two months, the man is paroled and told to adhere to strict rules for the remainder of the sentence. Judge Cockrell tells him to get a job, save money, keep out of bad company, and not to drink intoxicating liquor. If he wanders from this straight path or commits another crime, the parole is revoked and the man goes back to jail.

This done without trial, notice to the defendant, delay, expense or appeal. The sheriff simply takes him back on the original commitment.

Of the 110 persons whom he has paroled in Johnson county in the last seven years, only six have committed second offenses, and five of these are believed to be going straight now.

"There was only one clear failure," Judge Cockrell relates.

Judges are like doctors, in that their mission is to cure. Judge Cockrell says, but the "usual judicial rule is to select a certain size bottle of punishment, pour it down the criminal's throat, empty the bottle and throw it away."

A better way is to select a great big bottle of medicine, give him what he seems to need, and keep a whole lot in the bottle in case he needs more.

Cisterns in Rock Tell How Indians Existed

Alamogordo, N. M.—(AP)—Small jug-shaped cisterns, cut into solid rock in the driest section of the Sacramento mountains, may solve the secret of how early Indians lived in the desert.

The cisterns, discovered recently by Forest Ranger W. H. Woods, are most ingeniously located so that rain from the mountain side naturally drained into them. Each cistern was covered with a large flat rock, which observers believe served the double purpose of keeping the cistern hidden and free from rubbish.

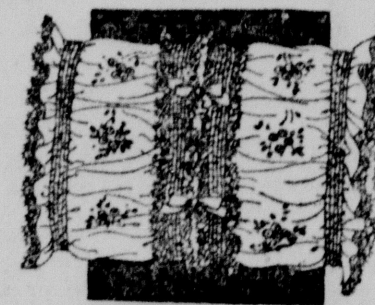

The cisterns, of which many have been found, hold from five to ten gallons of water each.

Nearly are impressions of human feet on the limestone floor. This phenomenon has not been explained.

THE PRESIDENT ON PUBLICITY.

In his part in dedication of the new home of the National Press club in Washington, President Coolidge had an opportunity to give his views on the obligation of the press. After reviewing some history and reciting some statistics, he delivered two outstanding paragraphs. In the first of these he dealt with publicity as a means of light upon public affairs. He said:

"One of the strongest safeguards of the integrity of official action is publicity. This does not mean an espionage of all personal and private action of government officials, but it does mean publicity concerning the discharge of the duties which they have chosen to perform. All those who have interests which may be affected by governmental action should have the privilege of employing representatives to present their cause and defend their rights. Nobody questions this on the judicial side, but those who are so engaged are required to be licensed and their appearance before such tribunals is a matter of court record. As in the case of the federal government those who are analogously employed in legislative and departmental matters are not required to make a like disclosure of the interests which they undertake to serve, it is necessary to depend on the press for such information."

Meaning of the president in this is that when a lawyer appears upon behalf of a plaintiff or a defendant, he is so recorded in documents of the court. His interest is that of an advocate for the person who engaged him.

When we come to the congress and the administrative departments we find advocates of certain legislation. We find advocates of certain public policies. Yet there is no place of record as to whom these advocates represent. There is no place in which they register their appearance and note by whom they are being paid.

For that information, the president asserts, the public is dependent upon the press. The proceedings are legitimate. Organizations have a right to employ advocates. It is legitimate also to disclose the interests of the persons employed and of their employers. When the public understands these things, action taken may be based upon that knowledge.

The other outstanding paragraph seems to have been directed toward those who adopted the "America always wrong" attitude; to those who will not be content because it is their business not to be content with governmental policies. Perhaps there may be some other interpretation placed upon it. Following is the paragraph:

"The constant criticism of all things that have to do with our country, with the administration of its public affairs, with the operation of its commercial enterprises, with the conduct of its social life, and the attempt to foment class distinctions and jealousies, weaken and disintegrate the necessary spirit of patriotism. There is always need for criticism, but there is likewise need for discrimination. There is a requirement for justice and truth. Wherever there is the genuine, there will be some counterfeits. But our own nation, or any other nation, does not consist of the counterfeits; it consists of the genuine. Constantly to portray the failures and the delinquents is grossly to mislead the public. It breeds an unwarranted spirit of cynicism. Life is made up of the successful and the worthy. In any candid representation of current conditions they have the first claim to attention. In the effort of the press to destroy vice, it ought not to neglect virtue."

ABOLISHING THE SUBMARINE.

Representative Frothingham of Massachusetts demands that nations of the world unite and abolish the submarine as an instrument of naval warfare.

There is little chance that his proposal will be accepted—and, for that matter, little good would be done if it were. The effort to abolish war is a noble one, but half-hearted measures like that won't advance it. And if the aim is to make war less horrible—well, that is a hopeless task, submarines or no submarines. Naval battles in Nelson's day were attended by just as much suffering as they are today.

A dry raider in Illinois got one to 14 years for killing a man. A Michigan man got life for having a pint of gin. It's just as Ezra Meeker says, the world is getting better and better, day by day.

Members of the National Puzzle League convened in Philadelphia the other day. Maybe they're trying to find out why Secretary Wilbur is advocating a big navy program and Secretary Kellogg proposing to abolish submarines.

MARYE and "MOM" Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

This is the fourth of a series of intimate letters exchanged by a modern daughter—MARYE—and her "old-fashioned" mother—"MOM"—to be printed in The Evening Telegraph daily. Another will appear tomorrow.

Dearest Mother:

Remember you asked me to try and imagine how I would feel if Alan took another girl to lunch? Well, I know! The oddest coincidence!

Norman and I happened upon a quaint little tea room the other day and I never gave a thought to its being in Alan's neighborhood until he came in and sat down at a table near ours.

He had a girl I didn't know with him. I can't say she was attractive but I suppose a fiancée would consider her pretty. Alan didn't introduce her. He just nodded casually to us and didn't come over until they were leaving and then he stayed only long enough to say how-do-you-do to Norman. Apparently, he was in a hurry. One of his busy days, I suppose, though that's a funny time to take a girl to lunch unless he likes her company a lot.

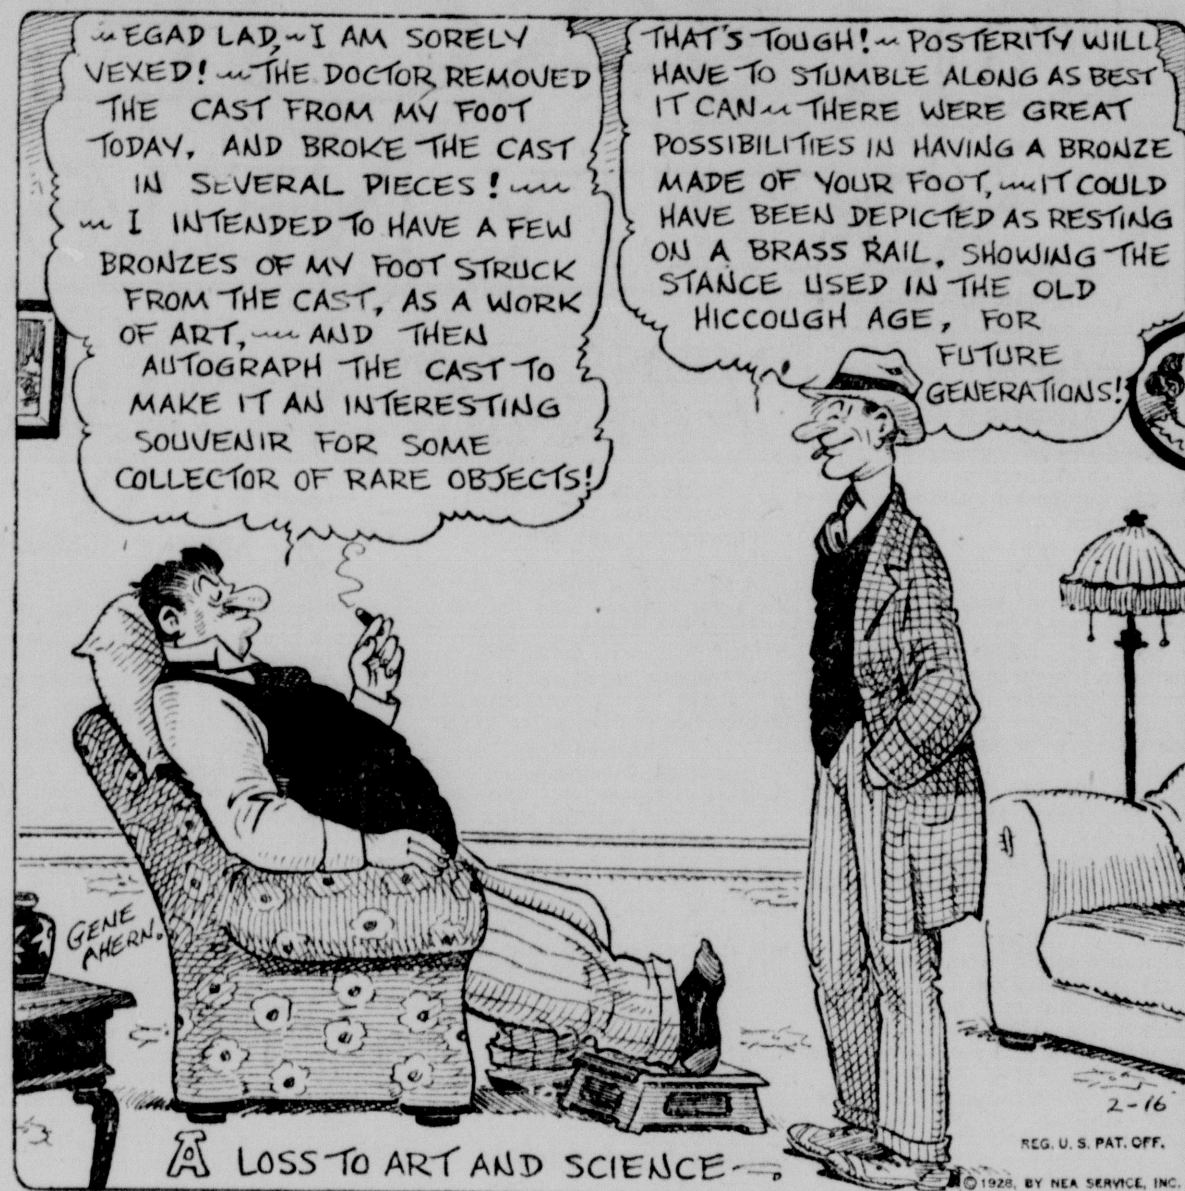

That night I asked him who she was but he only said, "What does it matter?" Of course I couldn't question him—that was understood in our engagement days—so I can't tell you any more about her. But, as Alan said, what does it matter? She is his friend and I guess if he had wanted me to know he'd have brought her over.

Since then I've been thinking that he ought to come home to lunch if he's going to eat in such places. One thing you will have to admit, mother: even we members of the can-opener cult know more about food than people used to know. Alan likes those rarebits and chicken a la king and they only take a moment to prepare. But perhaps you'd better send me those cook books that I left behind with some of the other wedding presents. Why do people give such perfectly trashy things as those lamps we got, I wonder?

I haven't been feeling quite up to myself these last few days. Norman's

Lovingly,

Dangers of Government Ownership Told

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—

Dangers of government ownership were pointed out to farmers attending the Illinois Farmers Institute here last night by J. A. O. Preus, former governor of Minnesota and now vice-president of a Chicago insurance firm.

Taking for the purposes of his speech, state and federal ventures into the business of railroading, ship building, bridge building and road building, Mr. Preus cited examples showing comparative efficiency of private and government projects.

The German state-operated railroads, he said, were the poorest in the world on service, at the same time employing more men than needed and paying them a comparatively low wage.

Inefficiency of government bridge building was demonstrated in construction of the two bridges of Potomac Park. The first, built by the government cost $3,250,000 and took three and one-half years to build; the other, built by a private concern in less than a year, cost $1,000,000. Preliminary estimates on both bridges placed the cost at $1,000,000 each.

The state of Michigan, Preus related, built eight miles of concrete road near Flint, at a cost of $50,000 a mile. Illinois roads, the same construction in every respect, but built under contract by private firms, cost the state $27,000 a mile.

POWER INQUIRY WILL BE MADE BY TRADE BODY

Effort to Have Senate Committee in Charge
Defeated

Washington, Feb. 16—(AP)—Financial structures of public utility power companies are to be investigated, but the inquiry will be in the hands of the Federal Trade Commission instead of a Senate committee.

Forced into its first night session, the Senate adopted the inquiry resolution offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, after accepting 46 to 31 an amendment by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, transferring the investigation to the Trade Commission. The vote on the George amendment climaxed a three-day fight over the proposal and broke party lines to bits. The vote on adoption of the amended resolution was not recorded.

Twenty-eight Republicans and 18 Democrats supported the George amendment, overcoming a combination of 11 Republicans, including the independent group, and 20 Democrats.

Aware of the strength of the opposition to the Walsh plan to have a special Senate committee of five make the inquiry, proponents of the resolution made three unsuccessful attempts to defer a vote until today, but the George supporters insisted upon carrying the question to a decision before adjournment last night. The vote was reached shortly after 9 o'clock after a session lasting more than nine hours.

The Federal Trade Commission is directed by the resolution to hold open hearings at all times and to give the Senate a report every thirty days on its progress. The Commission is empowered to investigate also campaign contributions by the power corporations to Presidential and Senatorial elections since 1923. Senator Walsh had hoped to have the inquiry include any attempts by the utilities companies to influence state or municipal regulatory bodies.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. ## Call for Good Horses

is Brisk Major Says

Washington—(AP)—Appearances to the contrary, the demand for good horses and mules is greater in the United States now than 20 years ago, in the opinion of Maj. C. L. Scott of the army remount service.

The general tendency through the country is to get rid of the nondescript horse that used to be driven to town with a buggy and tied to a hitching rack. There is a great demand now for a big, strong, strapping mule or a 1,500 to 2,000-pound horse or a high class riding horse." Major Scott told the house appropriations committee.

"There is more demand for this kind now," he said, "than there has ever been before in the history of the country. They are coming back to cities in the congested areas quite a good deal."

SEEK TO BREAK HAISH WILL IN DEKALG COUNTY

Trial Will Come Up
at February Term
of Circuit Court

DeKalb—Whether the terms of the will of the late Jacob Haish will be carried out as specified by the aged manufacturer of this city or it is to be broken to comply with the requests of some of the relatives of the pioneer resident of this city is expected to be determined within the next month or six weeks, unless the defeated side in the expected court controversy carries the issue to a higher court. Present indications are that the will contest will come before the February term of the circuit court, which convenes the fourth Monday of this month, February 27.

Judge H. W. McEwen, attorney for the Jacob Haish estate and also a trustee of the estate, today stated that the case is the first on the jury calendar and is hopeful that it will come up for a jury decision this term of court. The solicitors for the complainants are expected to be ready at that time to take the case before the court for a decision.

Several delays have been granted at the request of the attorneys for the complainants and when the last delay was granted last October Judge William J. Fulton indicated that he would not countenance another delay in the case.

Are Securing Service
The solicitors for the complainants have been securing service on those connected with the case by means of publication for some time past, it is learned. Those representing the complainants are Attorneys T. J. Merrill, Peffers & Wing of Aurora and Attorney Frank T. Jordan and Frederick Mains of Chicago.

Should the case come up for trial this term of the circuit court, it will be the first on the jury calendar and the calling of a jury will begin on Monday, March 5, it is understood. The circuit court will convene on February 27 but whether the case is to be tried or not is not expected to be determined until the Wednesday of that week, February 29.

Judge McEwen, representing the Haish estate, is anxious to have the case come before the court as the trustees wish to carry out the terms of the will. The character of much of the property is such that it will be very unfortunate if these matters are not soon heard and determined, states Judge McEwen.

N. W. Train Control Nearly Completed

Since 1925 the Chicago & North Western Railroad has been installing an automatic train-control system between Chicago and Omaha. It has just announced that the system will be completed May 1. The 500-mile stretch is the longest system of automatic train control in the world, and represents an investment of some $3,000,000.

This particular system is activated by an electric current that flows down one track and up the other. The current is picked up by coils on the locomotives, located in front of the engine wheels about 6 inches above the tracks. At danger signals, or when another train is operating in the same block, the automatic control begins, a whistle starts blowing, and if the engineer does not act, the control automatically cuts the speed of the train to 20 miles an hour, when a second whistle of a different tone is sounded. If the engineer does not reduce his speed further, the full control takes effect and stops the train.

NEW ELECTRICAL TUBE MAY OPEN GREATER FIELD

Duplication of Rays
from Radium Made Possible Now

New York, Feb. 16—(AP)—The possibility of construction of apparatus which will produce the beta and gamma rays of radium is held forth by Dr. W. D. Coolidge, assistant director of the research laboratory of the General Electric Company, in announcing development of a new superpower cathode ray tube operating on 900,000 volts. The previous limit of power had been 300,000 volts.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers where Dr. Coolidge received the Edison Medal for his contributions to incandescent lighting and the X-ray.

The new tube is a three-in-one arrangement of the 300,000 volt cathode ray tube. A cascade arrangement expels electrons at the rate of 175,000 miles a second, which is the fastest man-made speed ever attained.

ed. It is 300,000 times faster than the speed of a bullet shot from a standard army rifle.

"This opens a vista of alluring scientific possibilities," said Dr. Coolidge in explaining the multisectional principle upon which the new tube is built. "It has tantalized us for years to think that we couldn't produce in the laboratory just as high speed electrons as the highest velocity beta rays of radium and just as penetrating radiations as the shortest wave length gamma rays from radium. According to Sir Ernest Rutherford we need only a little more than twice the voltage which we have already employed to produce X-rays as penetrating gamma rays from radium and about three million volts to produce as high speed beta rays."

The 300,000 volt tube which Dr. Coolidge demonstrated in 1926 produced enormous streams of high-speed electrons which changed gases into solids, caused many minerals to glow with phosphorescence for hours and caused profound alterations in living cells. The experiment with the new tube have just started.

Dixon Farmers in Bus Which Upset

Twenty-seven passengers on a chartered Northern Illinois Service company bus, enroute from Dixon to Chicago, tipped over on the Lincoln highway about two miles west of Creston Tuesday morning. Fortunately no one was injured. The passengers were Dixon farmers going to a farm meeting in the city.

The driver of the bus attempted to pull around a truck and the wheels on the left side of the bus got off the paving into the soft shoulder and before the driver could bring the bus to a stop it tipped over. All of the glass on the down side was broken and the passengers broke some of the windows on the top side in order to get out.

Another bus was secured and the party continued its way to the city. Considerable trouble was experienced in getting the bus back on the pavement.

ROAD BUILDING ON AUTO FEES PROVEN RIGHT

Over 6,000 Miles Paved Road in State,
Illinois Record

The wisdom of the plan of highway construction by use of automobile fees perfected in 1917-18, becomes more apparent every year. It is particularly striking at this time, however, in view of the reports of the automotive industry for 1927, says Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson. He continues:

The annual survey of the Motor Magazine, published a few days ago, states that in the country as a whole automobile registrations in 1927 showed the smallest percentage increase and the smallest numerical increase since 1918. In Illinois, however, this was not the case. The total motor vehicle registration in this state last year was 1,453,203, an increase of 69,506 over 1926. This increase is not as large as some others, but it is much larger than 1918 or 1921, and it approaches the increases of more recent years.

Since the formulation of the present highway-construction program in 1917 my office has collected in automobile fees a total of more than $90,000,000. This is one half more than the original $60,000,000 bond issue and it has been collected in half the time allowed for the maturing of the bonds.

Helps Highway Program

With this large sum available the state has been able to proceed with its highway-construction program and it now has more than 6,000 miles of paved roads. Without question these miles of pavement have encouraged automobile ownership and have promoted the automotive industry in Illinois, as evidenced by the larger percentage gain in ownership here than elsewhere in the country.

Collections of the automobile department have steadily increased. Last year we collected a total of $14,839,593, an increase of $792,385 as compared with 1926. In 1916, the year previous to the beginning fees amounted to only $1,242,509. There has been an increase of more than 1000 per cent in collections during the last decade.

Estimates made on the basis of the registration to date this year indicate that we shall collect more than $16,000,000 and that there will be an increase of probably 100,000 in the number of motor vehicles. It is quite evident that we are not approaching a saturation point, if there is one.

The state is fully committed to the policy of highway construction by the use of motor vehicle fees and there is now available about $80,000,000 for highway construction. The building program should not be allowed to lag as long as money is available. Not less than 1000 miles of concrete should be laid annually. The state fell far short of that mileage last year, only 523 miles being built. The automobile owners and the public at large have a right to demand that this shall not occur again.

Only 5 Per Cent Paved

While we have made marked progress in road building only about five per cent of the highways of the state are paved. There is an automobile for every six persons in the state at present. Road construction, therefore, benefits directly practically every family. Nothing should be permitted to interfere with construction and locations of roads, and priority of construction should be based entirely upon the public good and not used for political purposes.

More attention should be paid to road-widening in large centers of population. It is not enough to build roads; they should be planned so as to reduce congestion to the minimum and relieve conditions which result in traffic accidents.

In this connection also special attention must be given to highway maintenance. To keep 6,000 miles of pavement in good condition is no small task. At best the cost of maintenance is going to be high, and since they contribute the money for the purpose and make the greatest use of the roads the motorists of the state have a right to insist that maintenance shall be as efficient as possible.

During the biennium ending April 1 last, the state highway department expended $4,345,943 for maintenance, but 77 per cent of the amount was expended for salaries, wages, and traveling expenses of engineers, clerks, patrolmen and highway police.

Would Pave Lesser Roads

Steps should be taken also to plan the systematic pavement of the thousands of miles of secondary or connecting roads. A large percentage of the people live on these unimproved roads, and during much of the winter season are unusable because of weather conditions. Without question some plan can be formulated for this construction, which need not be nearly as expensive as the building of main arteries, because the roads are not subjected to such hard usage.

In the operation of the automobile department we have made an effort to set new records in efficiency. Although the department has been operated at the lowest cost, compared to the amount of money collected, of any similar department in the country, advantageous contracts on plates and short cuts in administration have helped reduce expenditures still further. We shall be able to register all the motor vehicles during 1928 at a cost of only 32 cents per vehicle. This includes the price of the two plates, the expense of postage, expressage and freight, clerk hire and, in fact, everything that goes into the administration of the department. This is only a fraction of the cost per vehicle in some other states.

In Missouri, for instance, the state expends $212 for every vehicle registered; in Pennsylvania $210 and in New York, $120. While fees have increased during the past ten years to the extent of more than 1000 per cent the cost of operating the department on the basis of fees collected has decreased from 9-40 per cent of the amount collected, to 3-25 per cent.

Tax Dodging Called the Greatest Graft

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—Tax dodging is the greatest graft in America today and its evils have been visited upon farmers in the form of increased taxes, 33 percent above what they should be, Frank S. Regan, lecturer and tax expert of Rockford told the Illinois Farmers Institute today.

"Thousands of our best citizens will gladly pay their pew rent and their store bills, and then perjure themselves rather than pay their taxes," he said.

Chicago was assailed by the speaker as a stronghold for tax grafters, who yearly escape with stupendous sums. "Forty percent of all taxes paid in Chicago are wasted," he said. "Thousands of people do not pretend to pay their taxes. I found $3,000,000 worth of taxes against some of the richest concerns in Chicago, which was not collected, nor was the property involved sold. I understand that one of the officials there admitted that there is over $45,000,000 in such taxes on the books of Chicago."

"Franchises in Illinois used to be assessed $78,000,000," he said. "In 1926, the total assessment of franchises was $90,569. The Montgomery Ward & Company franchise is worth $51,000,000, and it is assessable in Illinois."

WITHOUT this handicap, there returns the very natural confidence, joy and cherished pride of possessing a clear skin.

Men and women both justly covet admiration, and you can expect such satisfaction only if you are happy in a clear, unblemished skin.

The sure way to reach this state is through the blood. Red blood cells are Nature's elements for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women. You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear. Thousands have regained

Stopper Brad Star

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—Coach Wallie Ruetter's Illinois Wesleyan quintet upset dope and stopped the scoring spree of Clyde McQueen, basketball ace of Bradley, last night, to lead the I. I. A. C. Rotger's proteges won a 34-23 decision. It was the first conference meet to be lost of the Techmen this season, leaving the Methodist quintet of Bloomington, the only undefeated team in the Little Nineteen Conference.

Linquist, stellar performer for Wesleyan, was high point man with 16 points to his credit. "Wild Bill" Mason, Bradley forward, was the outstanding ball handler for the Peorians, registering four from the field, and an equal number from the free-throw line. Joe Baker, and Fritz Rhea, Wesleyan guards were credited with stopping coach Robertson's juggernaut. The two rivals meet in a return game at Bloomington, February 21.

As a result of last night's tussle, Wesleyan moved into first place, and Bradley slipped a notch on the conference percentage ladder. The two teachers colleges—western and southern—were passing the loop leaders closely.

Here's how they look now:

Tariff for Farmer Urged by Teacher

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 16—(AP)—Extension of the protective tariff to include agriculture was advocated by Dr. Henry C. Taylor of Northwestern University today at the Illinois Farmers Institute.

"It is believed that this would bring quicker relief to agriculture," said Dr. Taylor, "and that it would cause less disturbance in other occupations. This economic issue bids fair to become a major political issue if relief is not obtained without further delay."

"The purpose of the protective tariff has been to readjust price ratios and develop a well rounded economic life in the United States. When an industry, believed to be essential to the well-being of the nation could not thrive because prices were so low that it could not compete successfully for labor and capital in the home market, the policy has been to protect that industry by a tariff."

"Under present conditions agriculture, the basic unprotected industry, can no longer compete successfully for labor and capital in the domestic market. Agriculture could compete successfully if it had the advantage of prices in the home market somewhat above the general world price level," he declared.

"Protection for all or protection for none," said Dr. Taylor, has become the slogan of the farmers.

The POLICY of PROGRESS

A STATEMENT by GENERAL MOTORS

It is the policy of General Motors to maintain continuous improvement, in every one of its car divisions, with no interruption in production.

This means that you enjoy the benefits of new engineering developments promptly — just as soon as they have been thoroughly tested on the 1245-acre Proving Ground.

It means that you can now order the new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac, or GMC Truck, and receive immediate delivery.

Behind this policy of continuous improvement is an organization so widespread and resourceful that it can make and sell quality automobiles more economically than any automobile manufacturer in the world.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Are there new materials which can add to owner satisfaction?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.

CAMPUS NEWS

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Galesburg—(AP)—Claim to the oldest living college graduate in America has been made by Knox college in the person of Mrs. Mary P. Adams McIntyre, who received her diploma 82 years ago. She is now 100 years old.

Mrs. McIntyre who was born in Milton, Ohio, in 1829, was one of the first settlers here. In a letter to the college, she said she is living at Appleton, Mo., and has a distinct remembrance of Hiram H. Kellogg, first president of Knox.

Decatur—(AP)—Gamma chapter of Delta Alpha Epsilon fraternity celebrated its first anniversary on the campus of James Milikin University by leading in scholarship honors. Theta Gamma, a local sorority ranked second in scholarship standing.

Carbondale—(AP)—Possibility that Southern Illinois State Normal University will not have the traditional year-book of colleges in 1928, has been predicted here because of the indifferent attitude assumed by students.

Editors of the publication were perturbed over the fact that only one-fifth of the freshman class had presented their pictures for publication, despite the plea that the book is to be offered at a price of $1.25 less than the cost of publishing.

Greenville—(AP)—The Board of Trustees of Greenville College have authorized the publication of a college quarterly journal to supplant the bulletins now issued.

Iowa City, Ia.—(AP)—George W. Young, Rock Island, Ill., has been selected to represent the University of Iowa chapter of Phi Delta Chi, national pharmacy fraternity, at the national convention at Cleveland, Ohio. He will be one of four delegates to attend the convention.

Chicago—(AP)—Insane asylums will claim approximately a million students now attending school in the United States because of nervous disorders, Daniel W. LaRue of the State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, Pa., has contended in an article to appear in the February issue of The Nation's Schools. Statistics, he said, show that one out of every twenty adults in America die in mental hospitals.

Psychiatrists believe, however, that half of all mental illness can be prevented, he reported, "and they point to the school as one of the best agencies of prevention." He mentioned the system of education now effective in America, which adapts the studies of children to their respective abilities, rather than forcing them to progress faster than their abilities permit. "May we hope," he said, "that if we concentrate our attention on mental health, they can also learn that twice as effectively."

Bloomington—(AP)—Play upon color in the work of dramatists is the subject matter of a lecture by Miss Mattie F. Simonds, professor of English literature at Illinois Wesleyan University, that is attracting wide attention in women's clubs throughout central Illinois.

Miss Simonds, who has lectured before a number of clubs already, describes the bright colors in spiritual meanings to represent the good and beautiful, with the dull colors in the same category, typifying the most sordid events of life. Maeterlinck's "Pelleas and Melisande" is used principally by Miss Simonds in illustrating her lecture, the use of color in this drama vividly portraying the dramatic effects of color in background and settings.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—(AP)—Performances in eight Illinois cities have been scheduled by the Girls' Club of Coe College here on their annual tour this spring starting March 31.

The coeds will charter a bus to make the circuit of the Illinois cities, which will be Moline, Rock Island, Geneseo, Dixon, Freeport, Rockford, Mount Morris and Sterling.

Commercialized Vice Said to be on Wane

Chicago—(AP)—Commercialized vice, on the wane, not only in Chicago but in other large cities as well, Charles E. Miner, superintendent of the Chicago "Committee of Fifteen" organized to fight commercialized vice, has concluded from the results of his work.

Writing in the State's social service magazine, Welfare, Mr. Miner admits his belief is hard to definitely prove; but cites these tendencies as proof that commercial vice is on the decline.

Disappearance of the typical "segregated district" in which vice and vice resorts, is not officially sanctioned, were at least publicly tolerated.

Effective enforcement of statutes aimed to curb the vice resort, and their almost universal adoption in this country.

Observations made by former traffickers themselves, that the so-called "whiteslave" trade, illicit traffic in women, is lessening.

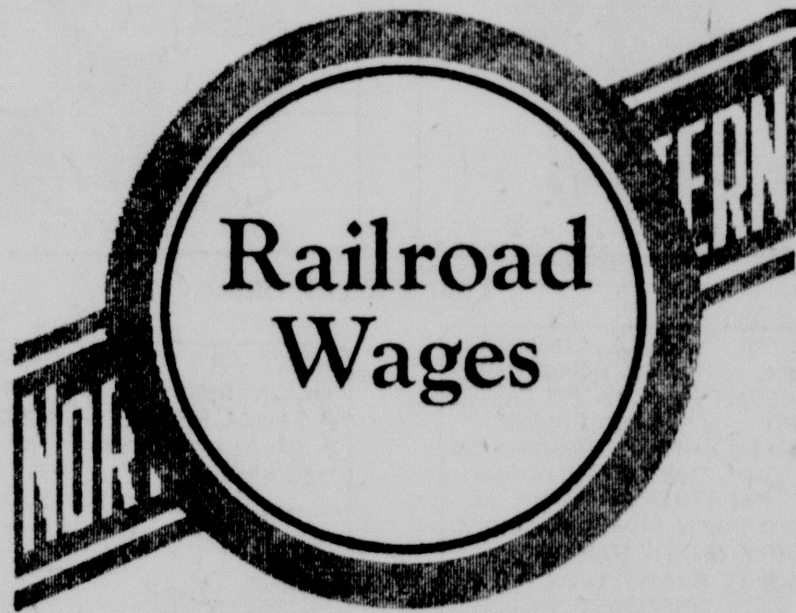

The furtiveness of the present resort type. Where the vice resorts of yesterday were "Gilded palaces," the committee of fifteen, in closing 2,311 in a period of a few years, found the new resorts were furtive and tawdry. In one resort, which he explained, could not be taken as wholly typical straw had replaced carpets as floor covering. The "parlor house," he said, has virtually completely disappeared.

Fight against vice, however, is by no means won, Mr. Miner declared. "A more informed public," he said, "is needed, so that efforts of official and voluntary organizations may be better understood. As long as there are demands for illicit sex expression, there will be attempts to commercialize the means for their satisfaction."

As another evidence of the wane of vice, Mr. Miner cited the fight against disease "which invariably follows in the wake of commercialized vice." Enactment of health laws indicates an awakening of public consciousness against the two evils which are closer inter-related, he said.

CONGRESS IS WARNED

Washington, Feb. 13—(AP)—Congress has before it for consideration projects estimated to cost about $2,000,000,000 Chairman Madden of the Appropriations committee told the House today in warning against excessive appropriations.

MATERIAL increases in wages were granted in the year 1927 by various boards of arbitration under an Act of Congress providing for arbitration as the method of settling wage disputes.

In 1926 the "North Western" system lines employed 56,237 individuals whose aggregate wages were $93,026,264. This amount was distributed over a large territory, briefly stated as follows:

Illinois . . . .	$23,872,164
Wisconsin . . .	26,005,004
Michigan . . .	3,393,241
Minnesota . . .	9,326,249
Iowa . . . . .	17,642,462
North Dakota . .	39,827
South Dakota . .	4,387,558
Nebraska . . .	7,180,887
Wyoming . . . .	1,178,872
Total	$93,026,264

In addition the "North Western" system in 1926 paid for materials and supplies, including fuel and equipment, $39,425,591. A very large proportion of this money was paid out by various companies to their employees in the form of wages.

The "North Western" system also paid taxes in 1926 to the nine states in which it operates in the amount of $8,212,027, and to the Federal Government in the amount of $2,340,364.

U. S. WILL JOIN BRITAIN TO GET N. Y.-LONDON LINE

Expect 48 Hour Mail and Passenger Service in Future

Washington — (AP) — Confident that 48-hour air mail and passenger service between London and New York is so close at hand that its attainment is only a matter of months, the government is clearing the way for participation by the United States in a new era of trans-oceanic transport.

Spurred by announcement that the giant British dirigible R-100, nearing completion in England, will make demonstration voyages over the Atlantic in September to show the feasibility of the plan, executive branches are moving quickly to assure full American cooperation in consummation of an air line over the Atlantic.

The postoffice department, through Warren I. Glover, assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, has indicated that if Britain institutes regular trans-Atlantic service, the government will be ready to dispatch mail in quantities to England by air at the regular two-cent postage rate now in effect. Similar plans by British postal authorities call for a three-cent letter rate on United States-bound mail with a surcharge of nine cents.

Rep. Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania has offered in congress a measure authorizing the postmaster general to contract for trans-oceanic mail at $3 a pound. Its passage will remove almost the last barrier to American use of the liners for mail.

President Coolidge has expressed his interest in the plan in connection with the visit to Washington of C. D. Burney, member of the British parliament and representative of the president's direction.

At the president's direction, Secretary Wilbur of the navy is making available the mooring mast at Lakehurst, N. J., for the demonstration flight, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover is looking into the project with a view to aiding it as he may through the department's section of commercial aviation.

The R-100 will be 709 feet long—51 feet longer than the U. S. navy dirigible Los Angeles. It will have a carrying capacity of 100 passengers and ten tons of freight, a cruising radius of 4,000 miles and a speed of 75 miles an hour.

It will be able, Burney estimates, to voyage from New York to London in about 38 hours, but the westward flight will take ten hours more because of the difference in prevailing winds. The ship will have the luxurious state rooms and appointments of an ocean liner.

Present plans call for endurance maneuvering and mooring tests for the R-100 in July and August, to be followed in September by the trans-Atlantic tests. If these succeed, British capital is prepared, Burney says, to organize at once a $35,000,000 corporation to build five more ships to serve with the R-100 as a trans-Atlantic air fleet.

MURDER!

By GEORGE JOYCE HALL, M. D.
Sacramento, Calif.
Member Gorgas Memorial

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 No. Michigan avenue, Chicago.)

The five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. U. Know died last night after hours and hours of horrible agony. Johnny was a very fine little boy and the neighbors and their children are going to miss him very much. The attending physicians did all in their power but when they first saw Johnny it was already too late to save his life.

In looking into the cause of Johnny's sudden death there have been several pertinent facts disclosed. The doctors consider themselves blameless, although they frankly admit that they had been called sooner the child probably would have lived. The death certificate gives the cause of death laryngeal diptheria. And the physicians stated that he literally choked to death. "This is a horrible way to die, and it is particularly unfortunate that an innocent little child should be punished in this manner."

Johnny's mother and father have been frequently asked to bring him for toxin-antitoxin treatments but Mr. O. U. Know said that was all "applesauce" and that the doctors were "meddling" too much today in other people's business. And Mrs. O. U. Know was told by Mrs. Jane Calaninity that it made children's arms horribly sore to have toxin-antitoxin, and she didn't believe in it anyway. So in spite of the advice of the school nurse and the family physician, Johnny was not protected against the dread disease when his playmates were.

It is my firm belief that there is a time coming in the future when such a death will be declared "First Degree Murder", and the parents will be held to answer for the crime. Or at least there should be a law to that effect. The loss of life each week from diptheria is appalling. Many children are dying from diptheria and it is my sincere belief that the care less, thoughtless parents who do not believe in inoculation or who put it off till tomorrow should have this matter brought so forcibly before them that they themselves will realize the danger in delay.

Toxin-antitoxin, given in three doses a week apart, will prevent that child from having diptheria for life. But there is this one thought to be kept in mind—it does not have its full effect for from three to six months after. And so it is possible for a child to contract diptheria even during the time while the toxin-antitoxin is being given. But you must prepare for the future and then you can at least feel safe from worry when some other child in the neighborhood is quarantined with a big glaring Diptheria sign on the front door.

Antitoxin given to those who have been exposed to diptheria will prevent it for a short time. And when a child first becomes sick with diptheria, large doses of antitoxin will probably save that child from dying. But how much simpler it is to prevent it than to try to cure it after it has developed only your physician know!

Let me urge all readers of the Gorgas Memorial health articles to go at once to have your children immunized against diptheria—it will pay.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
  - 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
  - 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
  - 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

FINAL GAMES IN INDUSTRIAL LOOP BEST OF SEASON

Reynolds Team Handed Case Five First Defeat in 2 Years

The Reynolds Wire Company team caused a great deal of excitement among the basketball fans at the Y last night when they defeated the J. I. Case quintet 22 to 20. All through the last two seasons J. I. Case has been undefeated, and all during these last two years the Wire-makers have been trying to beat them; and now, last night, in the last game of the season, they were victorious over them in a thrilling game.

The Reynolds Wire five finally combined a strong offensive and defensive which the Pioneers were unable to break up effectively. Mercer, center for the Wiremakers and high point man of the game, was put out on the game on personal fouls with three minutes left to play. Reynolds, having the lead with hardly a margin safe enough, stalled the remainder of the game. "They just out-smarted us," was the smiling comment of one of the Case players after the game was over.

The Cab Company worked a sweeping offensive game and succeeded in getting behind the tough defense of the Browns. Cowley, Slothower and Bremer of the Cab Company, all succeeded in finding the goal at will, while Kenney of the Browns played a remarkable game at forward.

This was a most interesting address, and the speaker had an array of groceries from various parts of the world, most of which were new and strange to members of the club. The next meeting of the club is to be held on Wednesday noon of next week, which is Ash Wednesday, also Washington's Birthday, both of which will be taken into consideration in the development of the program.

OBITUARY

CLARA FRANCES LEHMAN

(Contributed)

Clara Frances Lehman, eldest daughter of Samuel and Margaret Lehman, was born near Franklin Grove, Ill., March 29, 1887, and departed this life Feb. 12, 1934, aged 70 years, ten months and 14 days. She lost her mother at the early age of 14 years, when she assumed the responsibility of the house, helping to care for her younger brothers and sisters, and was always found faithful to her duty. On December 14, 1882 she was united in marriage to Joshua Reed. For a number of years they resided in the vicinity of Nachusa and Dixon. In the year 1917 they moved to Franklin Grove where they have since resided. To them were born one son, Clarence, who departed this life at the age of 20 years.

In the year 1884 she united with the Church of the Brethren and lived a quiet Christian life until her death. She was of lovely, quiet and unassuming disposition, was a good home maker and loved the association and entertainment of her many friends. One brother, Ira M. Lehman preceded her in death six years ago. Clara Lehman Reed leaves to mourn her departure, two brothers, Clayton H. and Warren W., one sister Mrs. Alice Morris, one half-brother, Ralph S., and one half-sister, Mrs. Nora Cline, one step sister, Mrs. Ida Group and her husband, Joshua Reed, besides a host of relatives and friends. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the late home with interment in the Emmert cemetery. The pall bearers were: Arthur Morris, Leroy Lehman and Lloyd Group of Franklin Grove, Samuel Lehman and George Travis of Dixon and Arthur Travis of Janesville, Wis.

Dear is the spot where Christians sleep. And sweet the strain which angels play. Oh, why should we in anguish weep? They are not lost, but gone before. Secure from every mortal care. By sin and sorrow, vexed no more. Eternal happiness, they share. Who are not lost, but gone before.

Legislators Hope to Finish Session

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Members of the lower wing of the Illinois Legislature were to settle down to the grind of passing bills today, hoping to finish the special session by the end of this week.

No fights were expected to develop, with the possible attempt to beat Senate bill No. 1, which limits the bonding power of downstate taxing districts to 2 1/2 per cent of their assessed valuation.

The companion bill to this measure, according to 5 per cent bonding power to cities, village and school districts, meant to exclude the farmer, was defeated in the Senate last night, in the face of an alleged agreement whereby both bills were to pass.

Sponsors of the companion bill, introduced by Senator Mason, declare they will not effect the defeat of Senate bill No. 1 in the House, leaving all downstate taxing districts with a potential bonding power of 5 percent. This, however, is generally considered unlikely to happen, as the farm bloc has a substantial voting majority in the lower house.

Chicago will ask for an amendment to the primary election law today providing for ward committees instead of precinct committees in that city. All members are said to be for the amendment with exception of Senator Deneen's followers.

Fredericksburg, Va.—(AP)—A memorial highway, stretching in a circle from the national capital into Virginia and Maryland and encompassing some of the most historic territory in the country, has been proposed to the United States commission for the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, Feb. 22, 1932.

The proposal was submitted by the Rappahannock Valley, Inc., a regional chamber of commerce, which promises to co-operate with the commission, now headed by President Coolidge.

The road would be of two or four strips of concrete, lighted over the entire route with fountains and parks between the concourses. Nations of the world would be invited to take sections between the strips and there erect monuments to their most famous men.

A great concrete bridge would be built over the Potomac and the highway would lead through Westmoreland county, Virginia, in which is located Wakefield, Washington's birthplace; then into King George county, in which Washington lived; the city of Fredericksburg, where his mother

Mary Washington, lived and died; Alexandria, where he voted; Pohick church, where he worshipped, and to Mount Vernon, where he died and is buried.

Other historic spots in Virginia and Maryland would include the birthplaces of George Mason, author of the bill of rights and Chief Justice John Marshall; the home of the maternal ancestors of Abraham Lincoln; Luke and Nancy Hanks; the homes of Presidents James Monroe and James Madison; and Arlington and Grand home and birthplace of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

THE STORY THIS FAR

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Mandell Begins His Training for Fight

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, settled down to serious training today for his ten round go with Jackie Fields February 23, and with the cheerful feeling that the National Boxing Association was satisfied with his plans to defend his crown next summer.

Mandell's championship opponent, Jimmy McLarnin, was not on the N. E. A. list of approved contenders, but apparently the N. B. A. feels that McLarnin would be a worthy foe, since Mandell was not suspended in the same announcement that put Mickey Walker on the ineligible list.

The N. B. A. president, Thomas Donohue, slapped the ban on Walker in the 26 states under the association jurisdiction, for failure to defend his middleweight title within the required six months. Nevertheless, Jim Mullen, who has Walker's agreement to risk his title here next summer, said he would continue with plans for landing a suitable opponent for the middleweight king.

COCHRAN WILL QUIT

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Welker Cochran, former holder of the world's 182 billiard championship, said today that he was on his last tour as a billiard pro. He is now playing a 4,000 point series here with Jake Schaefer, who won the title from Cochran last fall.

At the end of his present campaign next month, Cochran said, he expects to join a New York stock exchange firm and retire from billiard competition.

HAHN WILL RETIRE

Falls City, Neb., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Falls City isn't such a large place that one would expect to pass unnoticed for long, and yet Lloyd Hahn, American middle distance runner and the city's best known citizen, spent several hours here yesterday before his presence became known.

Hahn said his visit would be the last before his retirement from the track. "I'm going to hang the spikes on the wall after the Olympics," he said.

FIVE YANK HOLDOUTS

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Some five members of the world champion Yankees were reported today to be holding out.

Waite Hoyt, Urban Shocker, Tony Lazzeri, Earle Combs and Mike Gazella were named in the reports.

March 4 is the final day for the players to report for training at St. Petersburg.

CUBS START WORK

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Pitchers and catchers of the Cubs were ready for their first day of spring drill at Catalina Island today, with the word from manager Joe McCarthy that for a while the daily toll would last only an hour or so.

"If the boys want to play golf after that," said McCarthy, "that will be fine. Some golf will do them good."

HUDKINS IS FAVORITE

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Belief that Ace Hudkins would trounce Sammy Baker in the rubber match of their "grudge" series here tomorrow night was strengthened today with the Nebraska Wildcat becoming a 2 to 1 favorite in many quarters. Earlier in the week, Hudkins ruled an 8 to 5 choice.

The ten round tilt will decide the challenger for the welterweight crown now defended by Joe Dundee of Baltimore.

This will be the third battle between the pair. Baker dashed off victor in the first struggle by a knockout while Ace evened the score with a decision verdict after 10 fierce rounds.

RACE WINNER SIGNS

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Charley Winter, blonde youth who won the mid-winter Madison Square Garden six day bike race with Freddie Spencer as his partner, has signed for the 44th international grind here March 4-10.

Tony Beckman, farmer of Secaucus, N. J., also turned in his contract, paired with Gerard Debaets, the Belgian "Bearcat". Beckman won the January six-day race in Chicago and the long jaunt in Detroit last November.

STECHE'S PROGRAM

St. Louis, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Boxing, wrestling and cross country running were on the program of Joe Stecher today for the last of his intensive workouts preparatory to his meeting Ed (Strangler) Lewis here Monday.

Lewis finished his hard work yesterday with a varied program of swimming, wrestling, boxing and handball.

Says Farmers Will Abandon Party Lines

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Adherence to political party lines will be swept aside by American farmers in their fight for a stabilized agriculture. Dr. Henry C. Taylor, noted economist of Northwestern university, declared before the Illinois Farmers Institute here today.

"With the farmers," Dr. Taylor said, "a protective tariff system on agricultural products is first of all on economic issue. It has become such an important issue with them, however, that it is looked upon them as far more important than adherence to political parties. As a result, this economic issue of the farmers bids fair to become a major political issue if relief is not secured without further delay."

Farmers are not seeking a reduction of tariff protection on city products to equalize price ratios, Dr. Taylor said, but they do propose to save agriculture from being dismantled by getting a return on their products above the general world price level, such as industry already has.

"Two things should be done," Dr. Taylor said, "either the present protective tariff should be judiciously revised downward with a view of reducing the prices farmers have to pay for the things they buy, or else have the protective system made effective on farm products of which we produce a surplus." Practical politics dooms the first plan, he said, leaving the second one "the only logical approach at this time."
